Reduce Activity At SAAF

On Temporary Inactivated Status; Col. McCauley To Return to Command

The Sedalia Army Air Field will be at its lowest ebb, September 1, when it will go on a temporary inactivated status, at which time it will be maintained by a "housekeeping" detachment. Its operation, after September 1, will be such as to keep the buildings in condition, the grounds cleaned, and the base in readiness for resumption of operations on a 30-day notice.

Col. J. A. Kolb, commander of the base, has received a transfer and leaves for Langley Field, Hampton, Virginia. He will be succeeded by Col. Jerome B. McCauley, former commander of the base, in about thirty days. Col. Kolb leaves Monday for Langley Field, where he will take up his new duties.

Col. McCauley has started on a 30-day leave, after which he reports back to the S. A. F. During this period the base will be under the command of Col. Milford Itz, executive officer, who has been in charge the past thirty days during the leave of Colonel Kolb.

Colonel Kolb came to the S. A. F., on August 2, 1945, and later was made commander of the base, when Colonel McCauley was transferred. He has been residing in Warrensburg.

A. A. F. and Civilians
According to the new orders affecting the base, the "housekeeping" detachment will be members of the Army Air Forces, while a majority of the personnel on the base will be civilians. At the present time it is not known what reduction will be made in the civilian personnel; however, if and when such reduction is made, the administrative force at the base will assist those who are cut to either be transferred to vacancies existing elsewhere, or will assist them in making contacts in private industry.

Just what departments will be closed has not been indicated, but activities at the base will be curtailed. As to flying activities they have been practically nil for the past two months, with very few planes being on the base.

The base for the past two and a half months has been in non-operational status, with a fair size military personnel on duty.

In addition, $1,559,584 was paid in July to 14,621 self-employed veterans, who are allowed $100 a month, less net earnings. This was for 15,962 claims and was $253,712 more than was paid in June to self-employed veterans.

Uncollected Refuse In Tulsa Alleys

Result of Strike Of Garbage Men, Street Employees

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 10.—(P)—Street Commissioner George Stoner tonight estimated by Monday nearly a 1,000,000 pounds of refuse would be uncollected in Tulsa alleys and backyards as a result of strike of garbage collectors and street employees.

Stoner said only a small portion of the 269,000 pound daily accumulation of refuse had been collected in the past two days by volunteers.

"By Monday the situation here will be critical," he said.

City Health Chief Dr. R. M. Adams announced eight health department workers Monday would operate two garbage trucks to augment five vehicles being manned by university students and young businessmen.

Earlier Mayor Lee Price said a small group of street department workers reported at city hall willing to end their part of the strike involving 245 municipal workers.

Night Street Crew
The 18 men in the group, Price said, constituted most of the city's night street crew.

Their appearance followed a second back-to-work plea of the mayor and came while 15 volunteers collected the city's garbage and pickets resumed a march around municipal buildings.

City Attorney Charles Bostick indicated the city planned further court action to prevent picketing activities. Today's pickets were members of the international hod carriers, buildings and common labor union (AFL) and not specifically mentioned in a restraining order issued yesterday in district court against the truck drivers union.

Decision Monday
Bostick said a decision on the city's next legal move would be made Monday.

District Judge Leslie T. Webb told reporters Judge Jess I. Miracle of Okemah had been assigned to hear strike matters next week. Webb said request for an outside judge was made to the state supreme court with consent of lawyers for the city and unions.

Meanwhile threat of a sympathetic city-wide labor stoppage was posed when O. A. Vinnall called a meeting Monday night of all unions. Vinnall said the union men would consider a general strike to support municipal workers.

The garbage collectors struck Thursday after a dispute with city officials over union recognition. They were joined by 110 street department employees yesterday. City commissioners contended the city could not legally bargain with a labor union.

Need More Rooms
The Sedalia Chamber of Commerce is again making an appeal for persons in Sedalia to list their rooms for rental during the coming Missouri State Fair, by calling 895 or 896 as soon as possible.

C. F. Underhill, 70, and his two sons, Earl, 28, and John, 26, were freed on $250 bonds each after arraignment yesterday. They were arrested by U. S. Deputy Marshal Earl Sweeney in the middle of a broadcast, after federal communications engineers found their farm to be the location of a station designated as KOGY.—The king-

Cars Collide Near Smithton, Five Injured

A 1933 Chevrolet coach driven by John Windler, 72, R. F. D. No. 3, Versailles, and a 1935 Chrysler sedan, driven by Lee Shelton, of St. Louis, collided on highway 50, at the west Smithton road junction, about 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, causing injuries to five persons. Three were taken to the Bothwell hospital for treatment.

Mrs. Alice Bond, St. Louis, received a severe laceration on her forehead over the right eye which necessitated several stitches. Her small son, Bobbie, received an abrasion on the right side of his forehead and bruises on his right cheek. They were passengers in Shelton's car.

Mrs. Windler, 72, received possible fracture of three ribs, and bruises. Her daughter Miss Minnie Windler, received a scalp wound, and she was treated at Smithton by Dr. E. E. Holtzen. Mr. Windler received bruises on his head and left arm.

Treated At Hospital
Mrs. Bond was treated by Dr. C. B. Trader, Mrs. Windler and Mr. Windler were treated by Dr. Holtzen and Dr. C. D. Osborne, all at the hospital. Mrs. Bond was taken to the hospital in the Neumeyer ambulance.

Mr. Windler was headed north on the Smithton road and was entering on the highway to turn west when the Chrysler was headed east on highway 50. The Chevrolet was knocked into a ditch on the south side of highway 50 and the Chrysler came to a stop on the driveway of a filling station. Both cars were damaged.

Prohibiting Public Show Of Poultry

Move to Stop Spread Of Newcastle's Disease

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 10.—(P)—In conjunction with like authorities in other middlewestern states, the Missouri Department of Agriculture today prohibited public display of live poultry to stop the spread of Newcastle's disease.

Tom R. Douglass, head of the department also directed temporary suspension of transporting live poultry for any purpose other than immediate slaughter and the prohibition of sale of young chickens at community auction sales.

No expiration date has been set for the regulation.

Humans are immune to the virus which, however, can cause high mortality in poultry flocks, especially in young chickens.

No Fair Exhibits
The Agriculture Department head said the regulation, joined in by Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, Kansas and Nebraska, would prohibit poultry exhibits at state, county and district fairs this year.

But it will not affect the Empire District Fair in Springfield, since the show opened today and the chickens on display already have been exposed if the virus is present.

"It is a concerted move by the Midwest poultry industry till we can know for certain whether our flocks have it or not, Douglass said in pointing out there have been no definite diagnoses of the swift-spreading disease in Missouri poultry.

On East And West Coast
The virus has been found in states on both the east and west coasts and earlier this year state veterinarian H. E. Curry urged poultrymen not to buy stock from either area unless the birds had been tested for the disease.

The disease has been found recently in Iowa and Illinois, he said.

Weather Clear And Cool Today

By The Associated Press
Kansas and Missouri today (Sunday) will enjoy practically the same clear, cool weather as yesterday, with only western Kansas warming up slightly, the weather bureau said.

Missouri's top temperatures will be in the lower and middle 80's, while Kansas will range from the lower 90's in the west to middle 80's in the east.

There is nothing on the weather chart that remotely resembles rain, the forecaster said.

Yesterday's high Clinton and Joplin had the top, at 91.

A strong hint of approaching fall is seen in the Dakotas where the minimum reading was just 10 degrees above the frost level.

Remember Children Of Melita Nursery
Mrs. M. Chasnoff, Hollywood, Calif., formerly of Sedalia, remembered the children at Melita Day Nursery with the annual tag on the birthday anniversary of her son Joe, who died a number of years ago. This has been Mrs. Chasnoff's custom each year on August 8, in memory of her son.

Mrs. Ray Jiedal recently entertained the children of the nursery on the birthday anniversary of her young daughter, Judy.

MFA Annual Meet Here Aug. 27-28

Possibility of Record Attendance, Secretary States

COLUMBIA, Mo.—R. J. Rosier, executive secretary of the Missouri Farmers' Association, announcing that the association has exceeded its goal for 100,000 members, says the M. F. A. is now the second largest statewide farm organization in the nation. The M. F. A. is a federation of cooperatives in Missouri.

At the annual convention in Sedalia August 27-28, Rosier will report that with the end of the fiscal year on July 31, the M. F. A. reached a total of 113,073 members—highest in the history of the farm organization founded 32 years ago by the late William Hirth. This is a gain of 19 per cent, or nearly 18,000 members, over the total for the previous fiscal year.

County Membership
Pettis county's membership totals 1,909.

The M. F. A. is represented by members in 103 of Missouri's 114 counties. Almost without exception, these counties showed increases. There are at least 500 members in each of 65 counties, with 46 of these counties each having 1,000 members or more. Six counties—Greene, Franklin, Lawrence, Polk, Texas and Webster—boast more than 3,000 members each; while 16 others have an individual minimum of 2,000.

According to available figures, the Missouri Farmers Association now ranks second in the nation among statewide farm groups, being surpassed in membership only by the Illinois Agricultural Association with a reported total of 128,000.

Expect Record Attendance
Rosier said the M. F. A.'s 19 per cent gain in membership indicated the possibility of a record attendance at the annual convention this month. On the basis of one delegate to every ten members, more than 11,000 delegates will be eligible to attend.

Rosier attributed the membership increase to a better understanding among Missouri farmers of the cooperative principles of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives. The council has headquarters in Washington, D. C., and represents 4,500 regional co-operatives owned by 4,600,000 farmers from every state in the Union.

Membership Drive Still on

The Sedalia Chamber of Commerce membership drive is still in full swing, with both Paul Haderich's and Rev. H. U. Campbell's team members working. Mr. Haderich's team is in the lead with 246 points, Rev. Campbell's team follows with 192 points, a considerable gain over yesterday's score. The total number of memberships to date is 202, representing $3,996.00.

Abe Silverman, chairman of the membership campaign, states that in the pressure of the campaign we feel some potential prospects may be unintentionally overlooked. Any such person who is desirous of obtaining a membership should contact the Chamber of Commerce by calling 895 and someone will call for their membership.

George Lockett, chairman of the sub-committee on increased memberships, in a recent study of Chamber of Commerce support of comparable firms in other surrounding cities found that some of the present members may justifiably be asked to increase the amount of their participation. Mr. Lockett's requests that anyone who feels they would like to increase the number of memberships they now carry, get in touch with him.

Error to Give LaGuardia Beer

PRAGUE, Aug. 10.—(P)—A stein of Pilsener beer with which UNRRA Director General Fiorello H. La Guardia was greeted at the Prague airport today may affect the whole relief program for Czechoslovakia.

La Guardia snatched his lips appreciatively as he enjoyed the first few sips. Suddenly he stopped sipping.

The more he thought about it all, the more he became exercised over the appearance of beer in a country urgently needing grain for food. An UNRRA publicity release noted him as saying at headquarters:

"This country has been making a great recovery. I don't think they'll need any more grain when the director general is met at the airport with a glass of beer. Who ever planned that made a great mistake. Our people at home are ticklish about this point. I have more complaints about it than any other matter."

A spokesman at UNRRA headquarters said La Guardia appeared determined "to institute a re-survey of Czechoslovak grain needs, with the likelihood that supplies will be reduced."

From the Czechoslovak point of view, La Guardia's display of shocked surprise was not wholly warranted.

"There isn't much beer," protested one Czech, "and moreover it is regarded as part of the diet rather than an alcoholic drink."

FBI Agent Is Shot in Thigh

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 10.—(P)—F. B. I. agent Glenn Russell Ruby was shot in the thigh today as a party of officers approached a man near Kackley, Kas., to question him about an attempted burglary of the Kackley State Bank.

Dwight Brantley, F. B. I. agent in charge here said tonight.

Brantley said the man, whom he identified as John (Jack) Benton, opened fire without provocation, using his wife and some of his eight children as a shield, when four officers got out of their car and approached a farmhouse where Benton was living.

The officers did not return the fire, and Benton escaped.

Convention of War Dads On September 6-7

First General Session Will Be Held In Springfield

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 10.—More than 800 American War Dads, auxiliary members and visitors, representing 169 chapters in this state, will meet here September 6 and 7 for their annual state convention. I. V. Ewing, convention chairman, has announced a tour of the "Shepherd of the Hills" country for all convention visitors who wish to remain Sunday, September 8, to make this trip.

William H. Rohman, St. Louis, state president, himself a Gold Star father, has invited all Gold Star members to hold their first general session at this state convention. Gold Stars Union, official name of the new group in the War Dad organization, will conduct an induction ceremony. In this rite all qualified parents are expected to voice their pledge that they will, in memory of their own honored war dead, through the remaining days of their lives try to carry forward the high ideals for which their sons and daughters made the supreme sacrifice.

To Consider Cemetery
The convention will consider making formal request that a new national cemetery be established in Missouri. The three existing national burial grounds are at Springfield, Jefferson City and Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis.

Thousands of bodies of Missouri's war dead will be included in the movement when the government begins returning the war dead from overseas. Some Gold Star parents have suggested that another national cemetery ought to be located in the west or north-west part of the state.

On the recommendation from St. Louis and Joplin chapters, the state convention will consider proposals that the American War Dads demand that army hospital facilities at Jefferson Barracks, already declared surplus, and O'Reilly General hospital at Springfield, now being deactivated, shall be transferred to the Veterans Administration as a temporary expedient. This action, War Dad leaders point out, would make immediately available several hundred hospital beds to veterans unable now to obtain such service from the government. These temporary facilities could be discarded when the hospital construction program of the Veterans Administration advanced far enough to supply the beds needed to serve the veterans, according to the suggestion of the American War Dads.

Governor Speaker
Principal speakers expected include Governor Phil M. Donnelly, to talk on "America's Responsibility to the Returned Veteran"; Theodore Marks, Kansas City, head of the Veterans Employment Service in this state, and Nat Milgram, Kansas City, founder of the organization.

The program for the auxiliary will be under direction of Mrs. Ralph E. Seaton, Kansas City state vice-president.

Bean Soup Unchanged

By Francis J. Kelly
WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(P)—Celery crunching and soup slurping will become quieter pleasures in the senators' dining room at the United States capitol.

The joint is being sound-proofed.

That's not all. Two high-speed, rotary drive dishwashing machines are being installed in the kitchen. But the kitchen's most famous product, a creamy bean soup flavored with Smithfield ham, will continue to be compounded without mechanical assistance.

Most lawmakers have gone home, but echoes of their marathan session linger.

Barbers in the senate office building studied as their legislative customers eased price controls, then this week raised the price of haircuts from 40 cents to 60. (A haircut at a downtown barber shop cost $1.)

The senators won't care. If they want to, they can patronize another shop in the capitol proper, where locks are shorn for free.

Free to the senators, that is.

DETROIT, Aug. 10.—(P)—A slender, 29-year-old woman, who left her baby in a physician's office 15 minutes after birth, today balanced a little girl's future against the persistent tug at her mother's heart.

A policewoman in suburban Dearborn said Mrs. Madeline Ford wants her child back but feels it will have "a better chance" if it is offered for adoption without ever seeing its mother.

"She realizes what she did," Mrs. Nettie Hitchcock of the Dearborn police said after talking with Mrs. Ford in the latter's cramped trailer home. "She'd like to have the baby back but she's afraid she couldn't take care of it."

Struggle To Support Children
Mrs. Ford wept quietly. Mrs. Hitchcock said, as she told of her struggle to support three other children on her scant earnings as a waitress in a Dearborn grill.

The woman is divorced from her husband, the policewoman said, and does not know where he is.

The dark-haired mother entered the anteroom of Dr. R. L. Eilenfeldt Thursday night, said only that she "wanted to see the doctor," and patiently waited her turn while 20 other patients preceded her.

Five minutes after entering the physician's office she gave birth to a five pound, five ounce girl.

Mrs. Ford slipped out 15 minutes later, leaving the baby in the office, according to Dr. Eilenfeldt.

20 Injured In Train Wreck

GORHAM, N. J., Aug. 10.—(P)—Twenty persons were injured—two of them suffering broken backs—in a train wreck on the cog railway tonight 600 feet from the summit of 6,293 foot high Mount Washington, New England's highest mountain.

A spokesman for the Mount Washington Park railway, which operates the scenic cog line, said that a flat car broke loose at the summit of the mountain and sped down the track into an up-bound passenger train.

"It is believed by the management that someone either as a prank or through curiosity released both safety devices on the flat car, although it is not yet definitely known," said railway manager Arthur F. Peague.

Cannot Fulfill Contract

Proposed Treaty Beyond Country's Capacity to Carry Out, Says Premier

By Joseph Dynan
PARIS, Aug. 10.—(P)—Italy's premier struck out at the proposed Italian peace treaty today as "punitive," and beyond his country's capacity to fulfill, and urged the peace conference to postpone for a year settlement of the Trieste and other frontier problems.

The decision to internationalize Trieste, Premier Alcide De Gasperi said, was "a bite into our very flesh."

Pleading Italy's cause before an afternoon session which received his arguments in cold silence, De Gasperi protested the deep slash in Italy's armaments, the bills for reparations, and the changes in the Italian frontier, particularly the big four decision on Trieste and Venezia Giulia.

He buttressed his request for a delay by reference to Italian claims for damage against Germany, asking: "Is this not another proof that no final settlement in Europe can be attained before peace is made with Germany?"

No Applause
There was no applause or other demonstration by the conference after De Gasperi's 41-minute speech, but as he walked back up the center aisle U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes leaned out and shook hands with him.

The conference adjourned until Monday with a decision to defer discussions on the Italian plea until then. It also took no action after a morning's debate on admission of Albania as a member. Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov again walked from the room while the Greek delegate was speaking, and the Yugoslav delegate charged that it was the policy of Greece, bitter opponent of Albania, "to foment and start war in the Balkans."

De Gasperi described the "French line" proposed as the frontier between Italy and Yugoslavia as a "line of political expediency" which left 180,000 Italians in Yugoslavia and 59,000 Slavs on Italian soil.

Offered To Relinquish Frontier
He recalled that he had offered to relinquish the natural frontier on the Alps and to fall back on the line traced by President Wilson in 1919. He added that Italy approved with certain reservations the Ethnic line established by an Allied committee of experts last spring.

"But the Yugoslav delegates insisted, with arguments still based on the idea of punishment, for total possession of Venezia Giulia," he said.

The premier described the proposed free state of Trieste as a mixture of Slav elements within a predominantly Italian population.

Crossroads Comment

by G.H.S.

The Flat Creek Flood—

While "having the time of his life" visiting relatives in Detroit the past three months, Michael J. Collins, 315 West Fifth street, Sedalia, in a reminiscent mood has taken time out to recall some early incidents he observed in Pettis county 71 years ago.

"As August 1 rolls around each year, my memory brings back the weather on that day, a Sunday, in 1875, and the raging, disastrous Flat Creek flood, such as was never seen in these parts before or since that time," Mr. Collins writes.

On that Sunday the whole countryside of people was trekking to Flat Creek to see the flood. They viewed it down the road south of the Smithton cemetery near where the Bohons lived.

"While we were standing at the foot of the hill, a man named Blum on horseback rode bareback into the deep waters to go farther on to rescue some horse stock marooned on a high spot. I saw him bring them out. It is a vivid recollection in my mind today seeing the immensely tall corn submerged to the tassels and the bare tassels waving above the flood. All stacks of hay were carried away. This took place following the drought of 1874 when we had grasshoppers from Colorado, chinch bugs which devoured the crops. The sky was darkened with grasshoppers flying overhead. Claus Junge, one-time president of the Citizens Bank, Cole Camp and my father-in-law, Con Shea hauled the big corn crop of 1875 to Sedalia at 25c per bushel and thought they had a gold mine.

I remember a hero incident in the person of "Bud" Shy who later was Sedalia's "Santa Claus" for the children on Ohio street. He told me he rode a mare bareback during the flood to rescue a family out of the second story of the water works building. Members of the family jumped out the window into the water behind him. He guided his horse by dashing water with his hand against her head to turn her as he saw fit and bring the family safely to land. If he had guided the mare by pulling the bridle he would have sunk her."

No matter how sour your old hay burner may be, it tastes best only when you run out of tobacco and there's but one pipe full left in the humidor.

The plea that what this country needs is a good five-cent cigar is fallacious. This country has good five cent cigars which, because of high taxes and production costs, sell for fifteen cents.

Remember way back when there was a war and complaint about merchandise shortages brought the response: "Don't you know there's a war on?" Today when shortages persist because of lagging production in the industrial field and complaints are made by prospective customers, why don't the clerks use a new slogan: "Don't you know there's a peace on?"

The trouble with America extending the helping hand to others is that the foreigners are hanging on so tightly to the helping hand it can't help its own body.

If you want your son to grow up to be an indispensable man in this era of governmental and business complexities, let him study to be a lawyer or accountant.

Numerous spokes in a wheel support the wagon load, but a single spoke, like a single spokesman, doesn't carry much weight.

The Land of the Free—

Clyde Heynen, who is close to classification in the Old Timer category, tells this story about boyhood days at the State Fair.

When he was 14 the West Tenth street gang in his age group used to scout the fences around the State Fair grounds prior to fair week, seeking fence holes or other means of "getting in free."

One year the boys discovered a sewer pipe entry in an isolated spot, went home and laid out their strategy. Come fair week they were all set, went to the grounds, lined up and started crawling through the pipe. After all the excess energy expended on this enterprising feat, imagine their chagrin when upon coming out of the pipe into the fairgrounds they were met by a policeman who smilingly remarked: "Come on in kids, this is free day at the fair for children."

There are moral crusaders who will make an issue out of a negligible injustice to another. They become so emotional about it that they are unable to understand the deeper significance of motives prompting apparent inequity which in the final analysis may bring about redemption of the injured party. Over-emotional crusaders can become ethical idiots.

One Reason For Our Troubles—

A candidate for office was delivering a campaign speech. He said:

"I am not a trained politician. I have entered this contest as a man whose reputation over a long period of years will stand the test of competency and honesty. I believe these characteristics should be applied by me during my term of office if elected. My intention is to place the interests of the community above those of any single class, and the interests of the country during these trying times of confusion above those of any section of it, including my own section. This is the type of representation that will solidify the country and fortify it against the recurring plague of isms and class warfare, business against labor, labor against business, every selfish minority against some other selfish minority. With these firm convictions for the welfare of our country I humbly but honestly pledge you my service."

At election time the candidate was overwhelmingly defeated by the voters of his district.

A baby crying for an hour uses up enough potential energy to climb to the top of Washington monument. If there was some way mother could harness that power to a washing machine the baby laundry and diaper inconvenience would not be so burdensome.

And How The Horses Laugh—

Considering the state of confusion in this country it is the prevailing opinion that solution to our problems lies only in application of horse sense which, unfortunately at the moment, only the horses have.

Officials of an Oregon town have been spraying parking meters with DDT dust to keep the coin slots clear of bugs. That might be a clue to why slot machines pay off so infrequently—they're full of bugs and need a generous spray of DDT.

Intemperance in the use of food or drink is just as insidious as the creeping up of painless pythorea.

Daughter Of Mine

By R. Louise Emery

Copyright, 1946, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Cecily's wedding is over at last. But never will she forget the cruel thing I did to her. And Della, Cecily's mother, will never forgive me. I have adored Cecily since she was a baby—kept on adoring her even after I married Robert and my daughter Corinna was born. Long ago, too, I knew that Della was raising Cecily to be an insufferable snob, and that she was jealous of my love for her.

When the two little girls grew out of babyhood, Della spent a fortune on Cecily's accomplishments. But Corinna was the more popular. Both were taking dancing lessons, and shrewd Della suggested we team them to appear at the occasional amateur shows put on by the town's civic organizations. I consented because it meant that I could see Cecily constantly.

VIII
"CORINNA, you're not keeping time. Corinna, watch Cecily! I declare, Corinna, your feet are so big it's no wonder you trip over them!" Della would say. Cecily, being the older, always felt that it was incumbent on her to instruct Corinna, not only on the fine points of their dances, but on behavior in general. I was not always with them during practice hours. Sometimes Della asked me to run upstairs and cheer Thorne. Sometimes she sent me into the kitchen to stir up a cake.

"Mama," Corinna said one night at bedtime, "have I got any ancestors?" I unfasted her pinafore, laughing. "Here's one right behind you," I teased. She turned expectantly but when she saw only me she grew a little petulant.

I don't mean mothers. I mean people that sign things when you start a new country."

"The Declaration of Independence?" Her face cleared. "That's it. Did I have any ancestors in it?" "None that I know of," I confessed.

Her disappointment was so obvious that I questioned, "Why?" "Cecily's great-grandfather wrote his name on it," Corinna informed me. "Cecily says that makes her better than Mercedes and me. Does it, Mama?"

"No, it doesn't. The Declaration of Independence was the beginning of a democracy. A democracy is a place where no one is better than any one else. That's silly talk from Cecily."

"Yes, and she says Mercedes and Val aren't any good because they're poor." Corinna burst out indignantly. "They aren't either poor, are they, Mama?"

"Of course not," I soothed her. "Cecily says when you have money other people have to wait on you and give you your way. She says I have to do what she wants because I haven't got any money. I have too got money, haven't I? Daddy gave me five dollars!"

"Don't pay any attention to Cecily," I told my daughter. "She isn't any better than you are and you don't have to give her her way all the time, either."

"That's what I told her," said Robert's own child. "And I wouldn't pick up her dress off the floor, either, until she said please!" "But you must love her," I instructed. "You don't have to wait on her but you mustn't start any quarrels. Remember that I love Cecily and I want you to."

"Well, I will, but she'd better be nice to me," Corinna answered.

THE next day at practice I was acutely aware of Cecily's rudeness to Corinna and of Della's complacent acceptance of it. I sat miserably debating how best to combat it and yet not lose my small gains in the complex situation. Thorne called Della upstairs for a moment and her leaving seemed to take the last restraint off Cecily. She apparently regarded me as a weak-kneed minion who would never dare lift a voice in protest against the royalty she represented.

Corinna stumbled over an intricate step and Cecily turned like a small fury and slapped her. I started from my chair but Corinna was ahead of me. She swung back at Cecily with the full force of wrath and hit her squarely in the face, just as Della re-entered the room.

She lunged at Corinna but the child ducked behind Cecily and I was there before Della could lay hands on her.

"Did you see that?" Della spluttered. "She needs a good licking, that kid!"

"I hit her first," Cecily acknowledged, shielding Corinna.

"You—? Oh! Well, you mustn't slap."

"Why doesn't Cecily need a good licking?" I demanded.

"Corinna must have been annoying her."

"That's no reason." Suddenly I was so furious that my subtle plans went spinning. "She needs to be spanked," I said. "And she's going to get spanked!"

To every one's amazement including my own I yanked Cecily close to me, pulled up her skirts and spat her round bottom until she howled.

"Now," I said to Della who had merely stood dumbfounded watching me without making a move to interfere, "I want it understood that when Corinna comes into this house she is to be received with courtesy. If there's any correcting to be done I'll do it and if there's any more slapping by Cecily I'll whale her again. Cecily, apologize to Corinna."

Corinna was crying, too. "You shouldn't have spanked her, Mama. She said she hit first. She was sorry."

"I'll bet she's good and sorry now," I muttered.

"I am," Cecily wailed. "I love you, Corinna. I won't ever hit you again." Then she flung her arms around me, her curly head just above my waist, sobbing heartbrokenly. I held her tightly, the tears bumping off my cheeks onto my hands and her hair. I knelt on the floor and our wet cheeks pressed hard against each other.

"Cecily, darling, I loved you before I ever had Corinna. You know that, don't you?" "I love you, too," she wept, (To Be Continued)

Garden Club Meeting At Green Ridge

Five representatives of the Sedalia Garden club attended the August meeting of the Green Ridge Garden club at the home and garden of Mrs. Wilford Aker, of Green Ridge. The Sedalians were Mrs. Frank S. Leach, regional director of the west central counties of the state; Mrs. A. A. Ferguson, state fair contact chairman for the Federation of Missouri Garden clubs; Mrs. Nettie Howe, Mrs. F. M. Nicholas and Mrs. A. H. Wilks.

Assistant hostesses were Mrs. A. N. Baker and Mrs. Floyd Brownfield.

Mrs. S. A. Lusk, president of the Green Ridge Garden club, and the hostess welcomed the guests and Mrs. Lusk presided at the business and social meeting.

Effective flower arrangements brightened the home.

Mrs. Leach spoke on the significance of the single-word slogan, "Share" and commended the hostess organization for its cooperation in this National club endeavor.

Mrs. Leach also mentioned cooperation and activities of the regional and states garden clubs and announced the regional convention to be held October 18 at Warsaw.

Mrs. A. A. Ferguson spoke of "Garden Club Day" at the State fair, which will be observed Thursday. A luncheon in the form of a picnic at the State Highway gardens will honor the Federated Missouri Garden club board as the climax to the State Board meeting to be held in the Hall of Religion. All local and out of state Garden club members will be invited to bring a "nose bag" lunch and join the State Board members at their specially arranged luncheon.

Mrs. Ferguson explained the floral entries to be exhibited in the Floral Culture building at the fair by Garden clubs of the state. Mrs. F. M. Nicholas recounted helpful "pointers" to amateur gardeners, including the time of planting and resetting bulbs and plants. Mrs. Howe and Mrs. Wilks extended greetings to the Green Ridge Garden club and expressed appreciation for their invitations.

Mrs. E. C. Vogelbaugh displayed two unusual plants, a desert lily and "Moses in the bulrushes."

Miss Erma Whalen scored 100 points on her special display and 97 on her bouquet. Mrs. P. E. Helman, who also exhibited a special display, scored 99.

We are doing our best to see that you get your new car as quickly as possible

We want to thank every one of our customers in this community—and every prospective customer as well—for the friendly patience with which you are awaiting your new Chevrolet.

That patience will be more than rewarded when we hand you the keys to your Chevrolet, for here, in our judgment, is the first and only automobile to bring you Big-Car quality at lowest cost.

We know how difficult it is to wait even a day for a car of such exceptionally fine quality; but we believe you will understand that we, and the Chevrolet Motor Division, are as eager to deliver cars as purchasers are to obtain them. Unfortunately, the cars produced so far this year are far fewer than we and the factory had counted on. Chevrolet headquarters at Detroit sums up the situation thus:

"Even though our rate of production normally exceeds that of any other manufacturer, we have been able to build, up to July 1, only 12.4 per cent as many cars as we had built up to that date in 1941. Production is still far below normal, because of frequent shortages of essential materials and parts. Strike after strike at the plants of our suppliers has seriously impeded our progress toward full production, and the cumulative effect severely hampers every manufacturing and assembly plant. In June we were able to build only 29.2 per cent as many cars as we produced in the same month in 1941."

While production is restricted, so—in proportion—are shipments of cars to us. As production increases, we are assured of getting our proportionate share of the total number of cars from the factory. But we want you to know that as quickly as these cars are received we will speed deliveries to our customers.

We thank you, again, for your understanding and patience—confident that when your turn comes to enjoy the Big-Car quality of the new Chevrolet, you will be thankful that you waited.

Church News

Upon his return from a vestry meeting Monday night, the Rev. L. A. Swan, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, was surprised by vestry member, and their wives, totaling about 15 persons, who had assembled at his home, 912 South Osage avenue, bringing refreshments in celebration of his birthday anniversary. After the social evening, the group presented the honoree a gift of fishing equipment.

Women's Missionary society of the First Baptist church will meet at the church Wednesday evening at 7:30 for the annual meeting in which all nine circles join. The discussion topic of the meeting, of which the two business women's circles are in charge, will be "The Orient." After the meeting a social hour will be held.

The annual August picnic for members and guests of the Friday Night club of the Congregational-Methodist church was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Ritchey, of near Dresden. The picnic supper, served in the home and eaten on the lawn, was followed by an evening of conversation.

After the opening song, "Have Thine Own Way, Lord," and prayer led by Mrs. Maggie Conner, the program, of which Miss Mildred Rogers was leader, was begun with a devotional service conducted by Mrs. W. E. Walker, assisted by Mrs. Dean Guthrie, soloist, and Miss Mildred Rogers, accompanist.

Mrs. Walker related the history of some of the best known, old hymns, including "Holy, Holy," "Abide With Me," "Rock of Ages," "Now the Day is Over," "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind," and concluded the devotions with a hymn of David, the Twenty-third Psalm.

"Savior, Like a Shepherd Lead Me" was sung by the group.

"Making God's New World Through Accountability" was the program subject. Scripture reading by Mrs. Mabel Rogers was followed by prayer by Mrs. Louella McCune. Miss Rogers spoke on "Churches and the New Era," Mrs. Ralph Hollenbeck on "Teaching For a Better World" and Mrs. Ruth Price's subject was "When Are Our Homes Religious?"

CAROLINE ELLIS will have a storehouse of things to talk about when she returns from her vacation starting the coming week.

Caroline is all set to explore Old Mexico and see what makes for a "Happy Home" among our good neighbors to the south. Her trip will take well over two weeks, and while she is gone, Gene Dennis is substituting.

Caroline is a sub-leasing the Happy Home (KMBC-weekdays, 8:30 a. m.). He is going to air the man's side of what makes for happiness within four walls. The series promises to be an unusual one—so you'll want to keep sets tuned accordingly.

Erle Doing Nicely
WE RECEIVED a letter the other day from Erle Smith out on a Dude Ranch in Colorado. KMBC's managing news editor underwent a major operation some three months ago. Erle writes that he is "brown as a nut from sitting out in the sun" and "—when I say eat, I mean it! The food is marvelous." According to his plans, Erle expects to return to the KMBC microphone a week from Monday at his old news periods of 2:25, 5:45 and 9:30 p.m.

That Mail-Box
KANSAS CITY: Harry Jenks is 27 years old and married. From the U.S. Army (August 9, 1941—October 22, 1945) Harry came directly to KMBC. You hear him now five days weekly at 5:15 p. m. . . . A whole host of our good friends have written to tell us that the Sedalia listeners can tune in Rev. Cedarholm on KHMO in Hannibal Missouri, or KFNH, Shenandoah, Iowa . . . all at 6:30 in the morning . . . Court of Missing Heirs is heard locally over KCMO . . . and Arlene Harris is heard over WREN with Al Pearce and his gang.

Hobby Week
INTEREST WILL run high the coming week on KMBC's Big Brother Club daily meeting at 3:30 p.m. It's "Hobby Week" with club members appearing on the program to tell of their activities.

The Municipal Auditorium at Topeka will find along with the internationally famous "The Texas Rangers" — the Rhythm Riders, Colorado Pete, Denny Slofoot, Jed Starkey, Don Sullivan and Tim West—all appearing in a great show next Saturday starting at 8 p.m.

And that appears to be 980 from here.

PARIS — (By Wireless) — Perhaps it has ceased to be news, but even so, it can't be emphasized too often that this so-called peace conference is actually a choosing up of sides for another war unless something vital and electrifying in the way of diplomacy steps in to prevent it.

Events are moving with terrific speed while this conference moves with humdrum slowness. In the Russian zone of Germany, twelve factories are pouring out munitions for the Red army. In Czechoslovakia, $400,000,000 have been appropriated for munitions—all of a standard type, interchangeable with either the Czech or the Red army. Yugoslavia and Poland also are pouring out standardized Russian arms.

Meanwhile, this peace conference talks sonorously, piously of procedure and presidents. Meanwhile, also, the sides are chosen—the line-up, unless heroic measures head it off—for the next war.

The lineup of Russian satellites never varies. In all the conference through the United Nations assembly in New York to Paris today, Russia's stooges only once voted against their masters in the Kremlin. That was when Belorussia got its signals crossed. Russia can be absolutely sure of the following votes on every roll call, come hell or high water: Belorussia, the Ukraine, Poland, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia. Sometimes also Russia swings the vote of defenseless Norway, worried sick over its easy striking distance from the Red army.

The line-up on the other side varies. It is significant that the British Dominions frequently desert England. This proves there's real democracy in the British empire. Australia and New Zealand vote more than half the time against England; Canada about fifty-fifty. South Africa and India are frequently aligned with England, though not always.

The most forthright leaders of the anti-Soviet bloc are Australia, the Netherlands, Brazil and Belgium.

Note—The most pathetic satellite in the Soviet lineup is Jan Masaryk of Czechoslovakia, now nicknamed "the Prisoner of Zenda." Son of old President Tomas Masaryk, who founded the Czechoslovak Republic in Pittsburgh in 1918 under the godfatherhood of Woodrow Wilson, Jan Masaryk's sympathies are all with the United States and Britain. But with his country solidly surrounded by Russia, he votes consistently with the Russian bloc.

La Guardia Accused of Snooping

It isn't being advertised, but Lieut. Gen. Sir John Harding, commander of Allied forces in Venezia Giulia, has sent a hot cable to the White House and the British foreign office against dynamic ex-Mayor La Guardia, of New York, accusing the fiery Fiorello of snooping in Trieste. General Harding demanded that the White House and the British crack down on La Guardia and prevent him from slandering the American and British troops in Trieste. In fact, General Harding even threatened his resignation unless he got full support. As a result the British, which is some jurisdiction over La Guardia because UNRRA is international, sent New York's former mayor an appeal to pipe down.

Apparently it did no good, however. It was after receiving the London appeal that Fiorello boasted that 25 good New York cops could clean up the thieving in Trieste. La Guardia previously had demanded that the Anglo-American troops in Trieste prevent the wholesale disappearance of UNRRA supplies.

Note—During the war, F. D. R. promised La Guardia a commission as brigadier general and the job of helping to govern Italy, but the army brass hats blocked it. Apparently they figured they could never handle the ferocious little flower. British generals now think their American colleagues were right.

Russians Don't Miss a Trick

The chief trouble with the American delegation at this peace conference is that it lets the opposing team take too many bases on balls and steal second too many times. Meanwhile, the Russians are on the umpire's neck, yelling themselves hoarse over every close decision.

They don't miss a trick. If a bunt down the first base line is called a foul, the Russians will argue until blue in the face that it was a fair ball. Finally, the opposing side gets tired of wrangling and arguing and gives in.

Thus, little by little, the Russians have won so many minor points that the score is already in their favor—even before the game really gets going good. Here are a few illustrations:

1. Very quietly Russia stacked the separate peace commissions with so many Soviet stooges that she will have the dominant voice on each commission. Each peace treaty will be studied by a separate commission and if Russia controls the commissions, it will report the kind of treaty Russia wants. The commission reports will be hard to reverse in the full conference.
2. Molotov put across a ruling that no allied nation which failed to declare war on an enemy nation can sit on the commission writing the treaty for that nation. Thus Brazil, not having declared war on Finland, can't sit on the Finnish treaty commission. However, two Russian stooges—the Ukraine and Belorussia—never declared war on Italy or any other enemy country. They were only recognized by the United Nations at San Francisco. Yet they will sit on all treaty commissions and no one on the American delegation has had the nerve to row with Molotov over this.

Bar Russia From Bulgar Commission

3. Russia never declared war on Bulgaria until the war was over. Thus, by her own rule, she could be barred from sitting on the Bulgarian treaty commission. What happened was, after Bulgaria surrendered to the United States and Great Britain, Russia found she was still at peace with Bulgaria. She had boasted to the world of her friendship with Bulgaria, but despite this, with the war over, she belatedly declared war solely to have an excuse for dictating the Bulgarian peace treaty today. If the American delegation wanted to be as disagreeable as Molotov, it could raise Cain with the Russians' right to sit on the Bulgarian commission. But the Americans remain polite and sportsmanlike, while the Russians yell to rattle the pitcher and argue with the umpire over every play in the game.

Note—It may be that Jimmy Byrnes' gentlemanly sportsmanship will win out in the end, but unfortunately the smaller nations—who had looked to the United

The August meeting of the Sedalia Council of Girl Scouts was held in the public library Thursday morning, with Mrs. P. Cecil Owen, commissioner, presiding. Seventeen members attended to welcome two new members: Mrs. L. H. Hodges and Mrs. Wm. A. Morgan.

Summer activities of the various committees were reported by the chairman. After some discussion by the finance committee it was decided to omit the August grease collection. The next collection will be made Saturday, September 23.

Mrs. E. T. Dillard, president of the Leaders club, will announce the time of the next leaders meeting early in September.

States as their great champion—fear we may lose the game on strikes and unfair decisions before we have time to score any runs.

Reading Club Ends August 24

The Book Bond Reading club conducted at the public library during the summer will end August 24th. Seventy-five members have read fifteen or more books. The two weeks remaining will give the club members an opportunity to reach their goal. The certificates and book bonds will be ready for distribution August 31st.

Miss Doris Pearl Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Robertson, 235 South Park avenue, became the bride of Mr. Charles L. McMullin, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. McMullin, 506 South Quincy avenue, at 6 o'clock Friday evening, August 9, at the First Baptist church. The double ring service was read by the Rev. Thomas W. Croxton, pastor of the church, before a background of huckleberry and palms in front of which were four candelabra, two with seven white candles and two with five white candles.

The bride's dress was of white satin, with net yoke and fashioned with pointed bodice and long sleeves which came to points over her hands. Her finger-tip veil fell from a tiara of crystal beads and she carried a round shower bouquet of white gardenias, stephanotis and ferns. She was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Robert Wild as matron of honor was in a floor length dress of white marquisette, with lace yoke and long puff sleeves. She carried a round bouquet of Picardy gladioli.

Mrs. Edna Wasson, as bridesmaid, wore a white brocaded silk dress, with a wide ruffle around the drop shoulder neckline. Her flowers were a round bouquet of orchid gladioli.

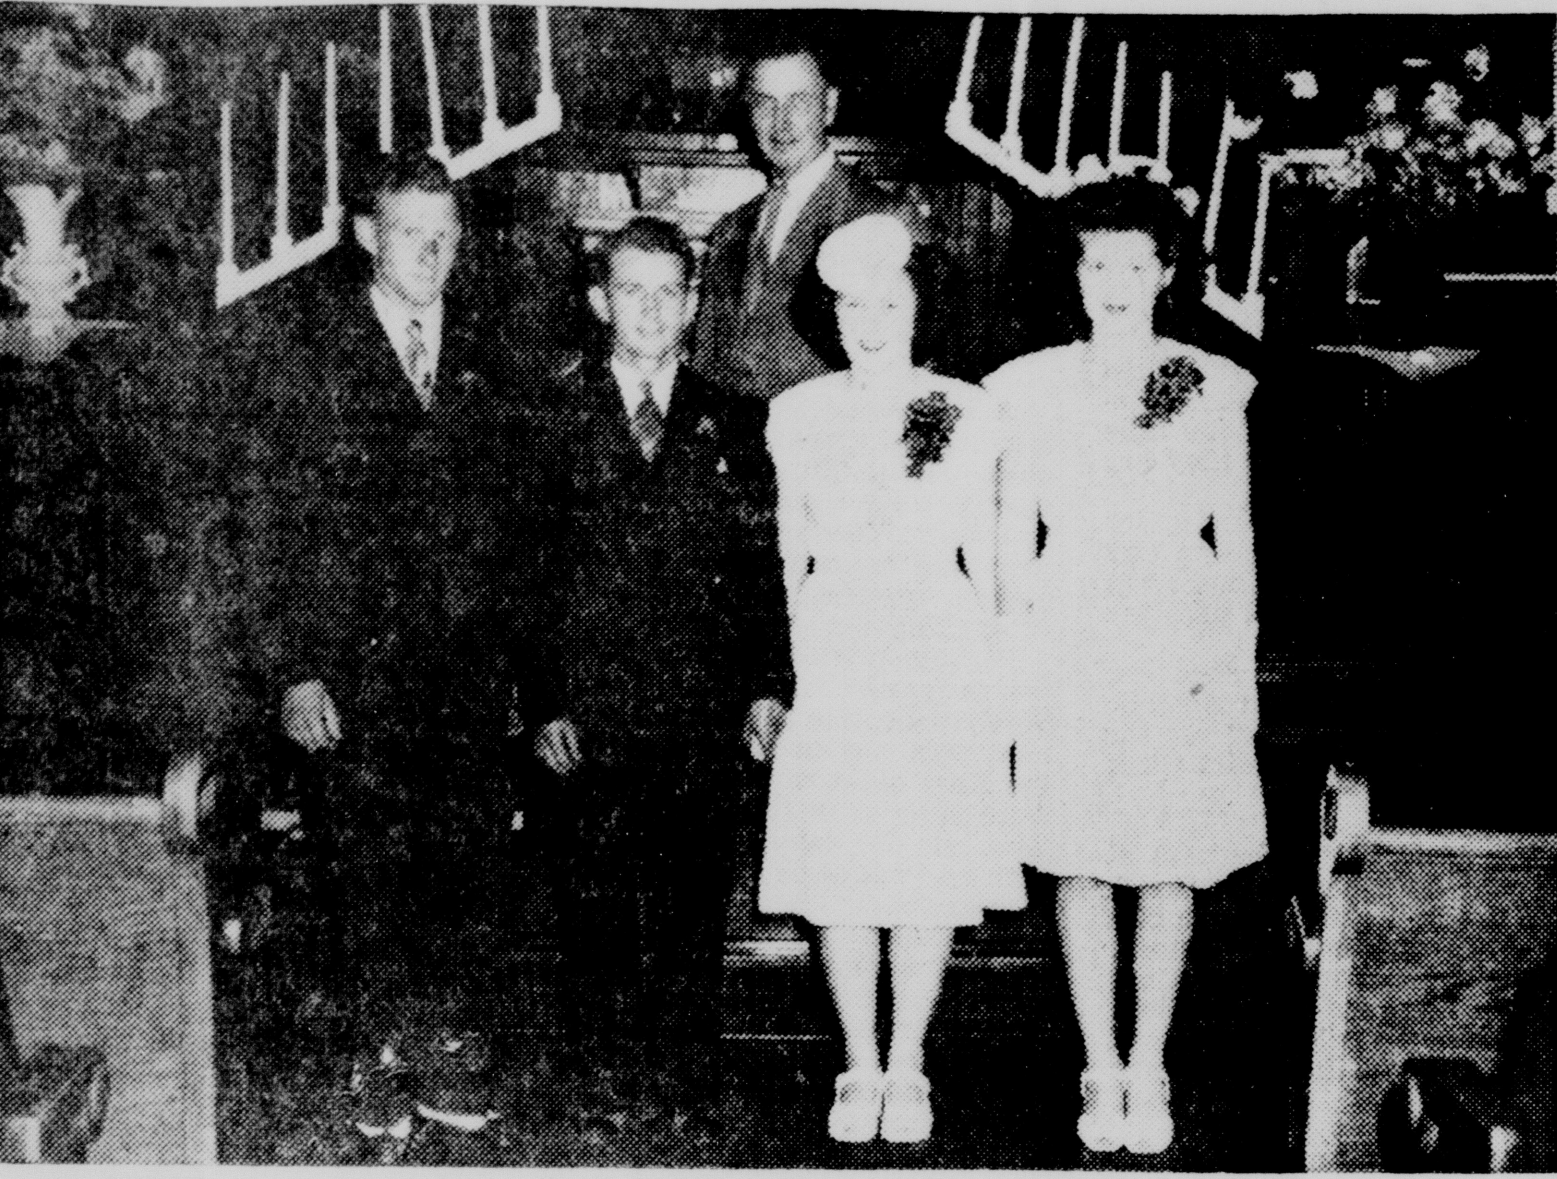

Mrs. Dale Waite in a white taffeta dress with net skirt and net ruffle around the drop shoulder, and Miss Marva Lee Gower, in a floor length dress of white eyelet with sweetheart neckline, lighted the candles as Miss Audrey Jean Parker at the organ played "Together" by DeSylva. Miss Gower wore a corsage of orchid gladioli and Mrs. Waite one of Picardy gladioli.

Little Nancy Yessen as flower girl, in a floor length dress of white net scattered rose petals from a basket down the aisle. She wore pink rosebuds and stephanotis in her hair and a bow of white ribbon on her arm.

Miss Beulah McMullin, in a dress of heavy white taffeta, made with round neck trimmed with gold sequins, sang "O, Promise Me," by Scott-Dekoven. "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" by Herbert, and "Because" by Hardelot. She was accompanied by Miss Parker, who wore a white marquisette formal. Both wore corsages of pink gladioli.

Before the ceremony Miss Parker played "I Love Thee," by Grieg, "Liebestraume" by Liszt, "I Love You" by Bond, and during the ceremony she played "Always" by Wagner, and as a
